

Appendix A

Transitions to California Code Certifications for Current Certificate Holders

Options to Achieve Transition

1. Completion of the relevant transition exam

2007 California Codes transition exams are offered via the Online Renewal Update Program on the Code Council website under "Certification Renewal" (www.iccsafe.org/e/mycert.html). Transition exams are based primarily on the California amendments to the model codes. All transition exams are open book with no specific time limit to complete each exam; however, there is a 99-day limit for the Online Renewal Update Program. This limit begins on the date that you register for this Program. All registration, fee payment, and exam administration is completed online. Once you have completed the online exam(s), a separate application and fee are required for the transition(s). The applications are included in this Appendix.

AND / OR

2. Completion of training based on the 2007 California code(s) referenced by the specific exam

A. CALBO seminars:

S1 seminar: 2007 CBC Nonstructural Provisions

NOTE: You must fill out all pages of the applicable Transition Application to be considered for transition certification.

TRANSITION from Current Legacy Certifications Based on the Current Uniform/NEC Codes to Certifications based on the 2007 California Codes

The Code Council allows transition from current ICC Legacy examinations to the new California-specific certifications as shown below:

- “Current Uniform Codes Legacy Certification Held” is the certification, based on the Uniform Codes, that you currently hold
- “2007 Transition Process” includes the exam and/or seminars/training you will need to take or attend in order to receive your new transition certification
- “Certifications Based on the 2007 California Codes” lists the new California-specific certification that is equivalent to the combination of your Legacy certificate plus the required exam(s) and/or seminar(s)/training
