

ICC CODES - 2000 CODE DEVELOPMENT CYCLE

Those parties interested in submitting proposed changes to the ICC International Codes are reminded that the deadline is approaching. Proposed changes to the ICC International Codes are to be submitted in accordance with the ICC procedures outlined in the Code Development Process for the International Codes and two (2) copies are to be sent to the respective Secretariat by November 1, 1999 (see table below). All proposals must be based on the text for the 2000 edition and each proposal must include a supporting statement which identifies the purpose, reason, substantiation and bibliography. Facsimiles will be accepted and must be followed by the original, signed proposed code change form.

Initial submittals of proposed changes which reference a new standard must be accompanied by three (3) copies of any standard referenced within the code change. All standards referenced within a proposed code change will be reviewed for compliance with ICC's policy on referenced standards, contained in Section 3.6 of the ICC Code Development Process for the International Codes.
