

2021 ICC National Leadership in Sustainability Award

Instructions for Nominations

All nominations must be received prior to June 1, 2021 to allow the Awards to be presented in the fall of 2021 (exact date to be determined).

The ICC National Leadership in Sustainability Award recognizes outstanding contributions to the growth and enhancement of codes or public policy advancing the principles of the International Code Council Sustainability Membership Council (SMC), in the field of energy efficiency and/or sustainability in the built environment. Nominees can be individuals or organizations as described below. Self-nominations will be accepted.

Please help ICC to continue to set the standard of excellence in professional achievement by acknowledging exceptional performance, dedication, creativity, and innovation. Submit your nomination today for consideration as a recipient of the ICC National Leadership in Sustainability Award.

The award will be conferred on an individual or organization that demonstrates an exceptional record of contribution, either in one-time, or cumulative efforts, made during their career or in the course of past operations in the following areas:

- Significant contributions and involvement in, advocacy, leadership and development of codes and standards, programs, public policy, publications, goals, or objectives in the area of energy efficiency and/or sustainability in the built environment, either directly or indirectly supporting the intent and purpose of the International Green Construction Code (IgCC), ICC-700 National Green Building Standard (NGBS), and/or International Energy Conservation Code (IECC).

Please forward your completed applications by email prior to the application deadline to:
