

California Transition Application

Because of the process utilized to develop the California exams, the International Code Council has determined that California-specific certifications are substantially equivalent to corresponding Code Council certifications. Current certificate holders may request to transition from California certification to ICC National Certification, or to transition from ICC National Certification to California certification.

Number of Certifications being Transitioned	Total Number of CEUs Required	Transition Fee
		Member	Non-Member
1 Certification	0.4 CEUs required	$70	$85
2-5 Certifications	1.2 CEUs required	$130	$160
6 or more Certifications	2.4 CEUs required (maximum)	$265	$315

Accruing Continuing Education Credits (CEUs)

Many agencies and organizations, including ICC, mandate accumulation of continuing education units, learning units or health safety and welfare credit to maintain certifications, licenses or membership. The following links offer training options for current holders.

CA to ICC: Candidates holding a California certification may apply for the Code Council equivalent certification. Candidates requesting equivalent ICC National certifications must hold current California certifications, based on California Codes, and show proof of training on current International Codes.

ICC to CA: Candidates holding an ICC National Certification may apply for the California Code equivalent certification. Candidates requesting California certifications must hold current National Certification, based on I-Codes, and must show proof of training on current California Codes.
