

Grant Ullrich
Deputy Commissioner
Chicago Department of Buildings

Grant Ullrich, Assoc. AIA, is a Deputy Commissioner in the City of Chicago Department of Buildings with responsibility for code development, policy and administration. He is currently leading a multi-year effort to better align the City of Chicago's construction requirements with the latest model building codes and standards, including the International Building Code.

Ullrich is a licensed attorney and holds professional degrees in law and architecture from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Prior to joining the Department of Buildings, he worked in the city's Law Department for eight years, handling a wide variety of matters including civil prosecutions, legislative drafting and high-profile constitutional litigation.
