

Gordon Thomas, P.E.

Mr. Thomas has more than 25 years of experience in the door industry as an Engineering Director for a door manufacturer and then as a consultant within the industry. Currently, Mr. Thomas is the Technical Director for DASMA (Door & Access Systems Manufacturing Association) serving the manufacturers of the upward action door and operator industry. The DASMA Technical Data Sheets and Standards are recognized in the industry for the commercial and residential sectional and coiling doors & operators.

Mr. Thomas has a Mechanical Engineering degree from the University of Florida and a Masters degree from the University of Central Florida. Mr. Thomas has been a licensed Professional Engineer in the State of Florida since 1994 and actively involved with the Florida Product Approval Process.

He is currently active within the committees for many of the codes and standards that drive the door industry including IBC, IRC, FBC,