

Following the initial Public Input phase of the update process which included the submittal of code change proposals to the 2021 IECC (“Initial Draft”) and the action taken by the Committee on the proposals, the process moves to the Public Comment phase.

Public Comment Draft #1 incorporates the entire text of the Initial Draft, as revised by approved Committee actions. This draft is similarly posted for comment in the form of code change proposals. Any issue raised during the Public Input phase that does not receive a public comment during this draft #1 phase is considered as resolved.

The iterative process of the Public Comment Draft process continues with comments/code change proposals being submitted to only substantive text changes made by the Committee.
