Subject: Preserve the IECC

Dear committee members,

I would like to register my concern regarding the proposal to change the current International Energy Conservation Code development process to a standards process, using the ICC's Consensus Procedures.

While having a more timely and responsive energy code is a laudable goal, the proposal takes away all the input from governmental members and puts the decision making power in the hands of a small committee appointed by the ICC board.

I support maintaining the current decision making process which allows for input from the governmental representatives who work with and implement the code on a day to day basis.
