

Sara Yerkes

Sara Yerkes serves as the Senior Vice President of Government Relations for the International Code Council. She manages and represents the association's public policy matters and oversees the state and local activities that have successfully gained the adoption and use of the International Codes in all 50 states. Yerkes works closely with members of Congress, state legislators and their staff to draft and endorse legislation that will support and benefit the Code Council's mission and related goals.