Subject: Energy Code Policy Changes Feedback

To Whom it May Concern within the ICC Organization:

As a Building Official in the State of Illinois, my colleagues and myself do not understand the reasoning behind excluding the voices of the many ICC governmental members that have worked with you in the past to create an effective energy code. From a municipal standpoint, we are not aware of any shortfalls in the current process to develop our current strong and effective code. We would offer the age-old adage: if it is not broken, do not fix it. If this change process is allowed to move forward government officials around the state will have little control over the substance of the energy code, to the detriment of the cities and states that rely on the IECC as a crucial policy tool. We ask that the ICC Board not silence our voices.

Thank you
